WINES

UNUS
2015

"It's a very serious, balanced and somewhat austere wine, combining power and elegance, perhaps with less concentration than in some past vintages. It's very tasty, and the tannins are very refined, where you see the hand of a very good winemaker at work. It's approachable now, but it should have a long life in bottle—it has fresh fruit and nice balance and acidity to do so."
